San Nicolas Has Talent

International Exposure for Rasheed.

During the Aruba Mural Tour on 9 September 2019 our Swiss guests were honored with a personal visit by Rasheed Lowe, our own San Nicolas future Mural Artist.

Noemi Heule, the reporter and writer was very interested in the plans Rasheed has for the future and Sarah Barrionuevo, the sociologist explored the past experiences Rasheed could remember from heart.

Noemi Heule has the intention to do a write-up on Rasheed when she is back in Switzerland.

New Business Coming To San Nicolas

In the Nicolaas Store Building, the Cafe that was in the building ,closed its doors in December 2018. From then on tourist and locals were looking out for a re opened Cafe. Now, after waiting for some time, November 1, 2019, the Cafe is going to be re opened under the name of Culture Cafe. Nicholas (Nick) Gordon, after signing the contract with FMA's director Anky Vrolijk, is authorized to run the Cafe. He is an Aruba University graduate, where he studied for the profession of accountant. The intention is to offer ice cream, coffee, tea, and sandwiches for sale. Welcome Nicholas Gordon, to San Nicolaas Business World, I wish you all the success. And I am always available to give support when ever is possible. Welcome

There Is A Difference Between Conservation & Bullying

Our island main income is tourism, instead of insulting our guest we can help educate them, while still letting them have fun, vacation is a time to relax and let go. We have witness some off road companies educate their costumers how to protect our wild life, but these signs are too offensive, and has crossed the line from conservation to bullying, some guest even asked me " Why do you all hate us off-road riders soo much. What is your mission? to shut down these companies and have hundreds of persons without work?

Read the signs. Enough is just enough. Please stop destroying our island.

Bati Bleki

Thank you ! Please read the sign.
It says: Please stop destroying our island.
